WELCOME TO SPRING SEMESTER!!!

NATIONAL NOTHING DAY

What is nothingness? Can you celebrate it?
Apparently you can on January 16th!
Check out our display on the second floor landing of MHP starting January 14th to learn more!

UPCOMING EVENTS AND RESEARCH AWARD PARTICIPATION
The award recognizes excellence and creativity in the use of USC Libraries’ research collections and services. Undergraduate and graduate students are invited to submit papers or projects they have completed at USC in a for-credit class or through independent study during the spring, summer, or fall semesters of 2018.

The deadline for submissions is January 25, 2019. Learn more about the Award and Submission Requirements HERE.

Eileen Chang’s Sea Burial and Special Collection at USC East Asian Library

This is the second in a lecture series titled Los Angeles and Shanghai: The USC Nexus, co-organized by the USC East Asian Library and USC US-China Institute. The series is intended to showcase USC archival collections related to Shanghai and Shanghainese diaspora. All are welcome. Light refreshments will be provided.

Thursday, January 17

TRANSLATING RACE COLT 511
Section 22101
Mon 2:00 – 4:50
Professor Olivia C. Harrison

This seminar will trace the genealogy of intersecting notions of race across imperial formations and analyze the ways in which these notions have been “translated” across languages and (post)colonial contexts. Readings by Bartolomé de las Casas, Alexis de Tocqueville, Aimé Césaire, Albert Memmi, Frantz Fanon, Stokely Carmichael and Alexander Hamilton.

This seminar is an elective for the new translation studies graduate certificate, and is open to students in adjacent PhD programs. Knowledge of other languages is a plus but is not required.
