Did You Know
You have access to Helpful Library Tutorials?

STEP-BY-STEP INSTRUCTIONS
TO ACCESS LIBRARY TUTORIALS

Ever need help starting a research project or need a refresher on using the libraries webpage to your advantage? Want to make sure you are citing your sources properly in your next research paper?

Do you need to access databases hosted by the Norris Medical Library, like PubMed, but you're not sure where to start?

USC Libraries offers a wide variety of excellent tutorials on our website (libraries.usc.edu)
You can now browse all of the tutorials that we offer.

Make sure to also share the USC Libraries Tutorials offerings with your students since there are many that can provide a helpful starting point in their own research projects. Crafting a Good Research Question is an excellent one to start with!
